Lewis, Operators End Long Dispute

Swift End Seen To Strike As Miners Receive Gains

By Norman Walker

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(AP)—A sudden agreement giving John L. Lewis sweeping gains today heralded a swift end of the coal strike in the United States. The 372,000 miners, hard-hit after nearly a month of idleness, probably will troop back to work Monday if remaining details can be worked out and a contract signed this week-end.

Canada Gains Wheat Outlet By New Plan

OTTAWA, March 4.—(CP)—Canada and the United States have found a solution to a three-month controversy over wheat, it was announced today.

Two United Mine Workers locals called back-to-work meetings for Sunday and there was jubilation elsewhere in the field. With the country down to the bottom of its fuel bin, and industry almost to its knees, the 10-month deadlock started to crack with startling speed yesterday. After hours of negotiating, government mediators announced that Lewis and major operators had agreed on "fundamental principles" for a new contract. Southern operators still are holding, but they were expected to fall in line.

The terms were not announced formally, but numerous sources on both sides agreed Lewis had won: (1) a 70-cent boost in the miner's daily wage to $14.75, (2) a 10-cent hike in the 30-cent bonus payable on coal production for the union's welfare fund, which pays for pensions and other benefits.

ORJA CORNS Have you seen him?

Executive Vanishes, Hunted For Two Years

Edmontonians who have read this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post will probably take more interest in strange faces as they go about their daily chores. They are almost certain to do so if they have read the story of America's greatest unsolved mystery, entitled: "Have you Seen Orja Corns?"

On July 2, 1948 machine tool executive Orja Corns and his car disappeared close to his home in Winnetka, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

"Police forces of every city in the United States, FBI, parents and other relatives of Corns and numerous friends have searched for the missing man ever since without success."

Neither Corns or his automobile have been seen or heard of since that July evening nearly two years ago.

TRUSTWORTHY MAN Scores of bodies of accident and murder victims have been taken takenly examined in all sections of this country. The Saturday Evening Post will probably take more interest in strange faces as they go about their daily chores.

The missing man was in moderately comfortable circumstances. He owned a fine home, had no large debts and was devoted to his wife and two children. His employees considered Corns a valuable and trustworthy man.

REWARDS STILL STAND His wife had been visiting relatives in the east when Corns disappeared. Corns is known to have visited some night spots in a rough section of Chicago on the night of his disappearance but he was not carrying a large sum of money.

Relatives and police ruled out the possibility of suicide and fatal accident is also virtually out of the question.

But Orja Corns is still missing and police and relatives still have standing offers of rewards for any one who finds him.

SALIENT POINTS OF RECORD BUDGET

The budget is an all-time record high of $74,676,701, and provides for an estimated surplus of $2,536,439.

Canadian and British bonds amounting to $18,578,408 will be paid from surplus funds, to reduce public debt to $110,628,472.

School grants are increased by $850,000; teachers' pension fund grants by $135,000 and University of Alberta grant by $100,000.

No reduction in taxation is announced. Revolving loan will be established from which school districts will borrow interest-free 25 per cent of capital needs.

Municipalities will get a total of $5,000,000 in two per cent interest loans for self-liquidating projects including housing.

Old age pensions are boosted by $2.50 a month to $50 a month maximum; $810,000 is provided for mothers' allowances and $50,000 for treatment of child arthritis.

New provincial penal institution—probably of the Boreal type—will be built, likely at Bowden.

Sum of $703,000 is provided in special hospitalization grants to municipalities who offer dollar a day public ward hospitalization.

Maternity hospitalization benefits will amount to $804,000; cancer treatment grant is increased to $268,000.

Revenue from fuel oil tax will increase $1,700,000 over last year; auto licence revenue will be up $300,000 and amusement taxes will increase by $275,000. Liquor profits are estimated at $10,300,000.

Revenue from oil leases, rentals and royalties is estimated at $18,865,000.

Capital expenditures for public works are high in history—$21,481,000—including $13,705,000 for main highways, $3,450,000 in road grants to municipalities and improvement districts, and $550,000 for bridges.

Amount of $2,600,000 will be spent for Trans Canada highway construction.

Construction of a new nurses' home and extension of the present nurses' home on University of Alberta campus are planned.

A $2,000,000 appropriation will be made for large scale irrigation projects; $25,000 for land preparation in irrigation areas and $75,000 for farm pest destruction.

Manning Releases New Record Budget

Highway, Welfare, Works Will Benefit Next Year

(Other Budget News on Page 3)

By Pat McVein Bulletin Staff Writer

The biggest budget Albertans have ever seen—gift-packed with bigger highway, welfare, and public works grants and the promise of low- or no-interest loans—was brought down in the Alberta legislature last night.

Albertans will share only indirectly in the benefits of the bumper $74,676,701 budget in which revenues are boosted by the province's fabulous oil development. No decrease in taxation is forthcoming.

Premier Manning, who in previous budgets always planned for a deficit, was optimistic as he addressed the assembly and the packed galleries of Alberta House.

He said he budgets this year for a $2,536,439 surplus. He estimates revenues from all sources will amount to $77,213,239 as compared with expenditure of $74,676,701.

Both revenue and expenditure are all-time records for the province. With an estimated $50,000,000 pouring into the treasury from oil development between 1948 and 1951, the government is making some of its gifts to the public on a long-term basis.

More than $18,000,000 in British and Canadian debts will be paid off to give the province a cash saving of $8,531,075 as a result of the favorable exchange situation. About $600,000 a year for 11 years will be saved in interest.

Another $1,750,000 will be taken from income revenues to maintain existing highways.

Municipal districts will get $2,000,000 for road construction; local improvement districts will get $1,000,000 and $550,000 will be given local governments for bridge construction. Sum of $1,230,000 is provided in addition from capital expenditure for bridges.

Another $2,000,000 will be spent by the government for Alberta's share of the Trans-Canada highway—provided, the Premier said, "a satisfactory agreement is consummated between the Alberta and Dominion governments during the ensuing year."

Total of $7,292,550 will be spent on the new University hospital wing, $150,000 for Alberta Memorial Sanatorium, $185,000 for University Hospital nurses' residence, $100,000 for additional nurses' residence at the University, $15,000 for utility buildings in connection with the Alberta hospital, $200,000 for a TB wing at Oliver Memorial Institute, $15,000 for additional utility buildings at the Central Alberta Sanatorium in Calgary, and $15,000 for alterations at the provincial training school, Red Deer.

Tipsy Toper Pilots Plane?

Compiled by Charles MacFarlane

A nocturnal joyrider borrowed a DC-3 transport plane early yesterday, flew low over sleeping residents for 14 minutes and abandoned the plane in the middle of an airport runway at Anchorage, Alaska.

Northern Consolidated Airlines and police are still searching for the culprit.

A check of the plane disclosed no apparent damage. A knick had been split on the floor of the cockpit.

This is his complaint:

A group of girls at the Pennsauken, N.J., high school was instructed the other day to write themes on the subject "My Ideal Home."

One youngster wrote:

"When I am married, there will be a love seat in my living room and it will be used."

Otis McNelly has asked the city council to pass an ordinance requiring that dogs be tied up during the growing season in Wenatchee, Wash.

He uses bone meal for fertilizer in his flower garden. The dogs smell the bone and descend on his place in droves. They dig and dig and dig—but no bones.

They're so persistent, McNelly said, his place has the appearance of a battleground.

More than 1,950 contestants will compete in the 32nd annual Manitoba musical festival, opening in Winnipeg Monday. It was learned today.

Festival officials said at least 26 centres in three provinces will be represented in the 12-day event. Most come from 22 Manitoba towns. Ontario centres sending musicians are Sioux Lookout, Kenora and Carleton Place. Alberta will be represented by the RCAF North West Air Command band.

Four British adjudicators will judge at the festival.

Police in Toronto's suburban York Township believe a lover's quarrel between two teen-agers led to their deaths.

Fourteen-year-old Beverly Thrush, and her boy George Moore, were found shot last night. Both had wounds from a .22 calibre rifle.

The girl was dead when her parents arrived at the house, and the boy died in hospital soon after.

Neighbors say the teen-agers attended the same school and were going steady. They lived within a few doors of each other.

A sick baby is the centre of attention at the Toronto Sick Children's Hospital today. Some of the top surgeons in the city are gathered at the baby's bedside, discussing an operation which may save his life.

The child was flown from Saskatoon, Sask., yesterday, it was born on Feb. 28 and suffers a delicate stomach.

Doctors say the baby can't be fed in the normal way because his digestive system does not work properly. They give him a fifty-fifty chance of surviving the operation.

The operation, according to the specialists, will require the most delicate hands and equipment in Canada and the only place capable of doing it is the Toronto hospital.

But White House sources said the administration will go ahead with one of the President's recommendations—a study of the "junk" coal industry. The President said the industry's declining market uncertain work year, and severe competition from other fuels.

Alberta Budget Is High Record

Alberta's budget at Edmonton gets $200,000 and further library at the University gets $400,000.

An interest-free repayable advance of $75,000 is provided for completion of the students' union building at the University, and $250,000 is provided for power plant expansion at the University.

A special penal institution, it will cost $213,000 and likely will be built at Bowden. Additions to Alberta's existing provincial jail will cost $250,000.

In Southern Alberta $2,000,000 will be spent for large scale irrigation projects, plus $25,000 for preparation of land following completion of the projects.

Another $400,000 is provided for irrigation projects under the water resources section of the department of agriculture. Total of $75,000 will be spent for destruction of agricultural pests.

PENSIONS ARE INCREASED

But though many of the budget's benefits are long-term ones, some cash-on-the-line hand-outs are included.

Old age supplementary pensions will be boosted from $7.50 to $10 a month, without means test or residence provisions.

Blind and old age pensions are increased by $125,000 over last year, to $10,548,000.

Minors' Allowances will amount to $210,000 and $50,000 will be voted for treatment and hospitalization of children suffering from arthritis.

Teachers' pension fund grants are boosted by $125,000 to a total of $500,000. University of Alberta will get $1,000,000.

TO COLLECT MORE TAXES

Although the government will spend $2,182,231 more from its income account on Albertans than it did last year, Citizens will pay record sums in taxes.

Revenue from fuel oil taxes will increase by $1,700,000, it is estimated. Auto licenses will add $800,000 more revenue to provincial coffers than was collected from this source last year. Amusement taxes will be up by $275,000.

EXPECT BIGGER RENTAL

The government also anticipates bigger liquor profits this year—a total of $10,300,000 against $9,900,000 for last year.

Fees under the land titles act are expected to yield $140,000 more than last year, and revenue from truckers fees will be increased by $500,000.

The province will receive about $877,000 more in grants from the Dominion government under tax transfer agreements. Interest earnings on surplus revenue will increase $200,000. Treasury branch earnings are expected to increase by $116,000.

High Points in Budget Address

Excerpts from the Budget Speech:

"The budget forecasts for the ensuing year an all-time record both in provincial revenues and expenditures."

"It will be a condition of any (gas) export permit that Canadian requirements must be given first priority."

"An increase of $2.50 per month in provincial supplementary old age pension increases the maximum old age pension in this province to $50."

"It is the intention to retire from accumulated surpluses all of our outstanding callable debentures payable in Canadian currency, amounting to $14,663,100 and all our callable debentures payable in sterling, amounting to $1,092,500."

"I am hopeful before the end of the present session to be able to report the successful consummation of negotiations to refund in the United States the province's American pay callable bonds amounting to $61,278,500."

"The entire development of our natural resources has replaced taxation as our major source of income and will account for approximately one third of our total provincial revenue for the year."

"Public works projects totalling $21,481,000 will permit acceleration of the road construction program, object of which is to provide all populated areas with an adequate system of all-weather main highways as rapidly as possible."

"Authority to spend an additional $2,000,000 as part of the province's share of constructing the proposed Trans Canada highway will be sought by legislation at the present session."

"The sum of $85,000 is provided towards the enlargement of the present nurses' home at the University hospital, and accommodation for the nursing staff of the Albermar Memorial Sanatorium will require the expenditure of an additional nurse's residence for which $100,000 is provided."

"Notwithstanding present uncertainties, those engaged in agriculture may anticipate reasonably satisfactory returns, and farmers are urged not to reduce or curtail production prematurely."

"Satisfactory conclusion of current negotiations between this government and the government of Canada in respect to the St. Mary's dam and other irrigation projects is anticipated at an early date."

Hail Insurance Costs Farmers $852,491 in Year

Alberta farmers paid an average of 50 cents an acre last year for crop protection offered by Alberta Hail Insurance Board, Premier Manning's budget speech disclosed yesterday.

70,000 of 6,800 farmers insured 1,600,000 acres of crop land for $10,000,000. They paid $852,491.

Amounting to $85,401 or 50 cents an acre.

Tanner Talks Longest of 22 During Debate

Debate in reply to the Throne speech ended in the Alberta legislature late yesterday after 22 speakers had voiced their opinions.

Last night's speech was made by Hon. N. E. Tanner, lands and mines minister, and the shortest by Dr. J. H. T. Wood, S.C. (Green).

Mr. Tanner spoke for 10 minutes and Dr. Wood for 11 minutes.

Again to Test Army Clothing

CHURCHILL, Man., March 4.—(CP)—Exercise Sundog, the Canadian army's winter training manoeuvre in the northern Manitoba barren lands, will be held again this year.

Sundog Two will probably be on a larger scale than Sundog this year, says Brig. G. K. Kitching, director of plans for the army at Ottawa.

He went by air to visit the 280 men who are camped in the barren lands to test the effect of Arctic conditions on men and equipment.

13 in Plane Safe As Engine Lost

NORFOLK, Va., March 4.—(AP)—A United States navy heavy patrol bomber lost the use of one of its two engines over the Atlantic sea on March 3. The plane landed safely at Norfolk.

RCAP Lancasters Head for Bermuda

OTTAWA, March 4.—(CP)—Three RCAP Lancaster bombers will leave Monday for Bermuda to participate in an operational training exercise.

night in connection with RCN ships, the air force announced today.

For Lt. A. R. B. Bell of Victoria, chief flying instructor of the Operational Training Unit at Greenwood, N.S., will command the exercise.

WHERE MONEY GOES

The $50,672,670 total was estimated by the amount that was spent for provincial construction projects in the same period, Mr. Manning said.

Cost of construction projects over the period totalled an estimated $55,662,444.

Too Much Snow

TACOMA, Wash.—(UP)—The heaviest snow in half a century, here forced cancellation of a sking season to postpone gas area.

Local skiers instead used the golf course.

Estimated for the ensuing year, the province will have spent on capital construction for the three year period ending March 31, 1958, the sum of $5,870,700 more than the 1949-50 revenue account from development of oil resources in that period," the premier said.

Canada Gas Needs Given Top Priority

Manning Emphasizes Alberta to Protect Local, National Interests

Premier E. C. Manning made it clear in his budget speech last night that the Alberta government plans no change in its gas export policy. Re-stating its policy, he said:

"No application for export of natural gas will be given favorable consideration until such time as the government is satisfied beyond question that under sound conservation and production practices there are sufficient gas reserves to meet present and future domestic and industrial requirements of the province."

"When fully satisfied that a surplus exists, over and above these requirements, sufficient to justify export under sound conservation and production practices, the government will approve the export of such surplus, with each application being considered on its own merits and in the light of all prevailing circumstances."

"Furthermore, it will be a condition of any export permit that Canadian requirements must be given first priority."

Alberta's Banks Earn Province $117,000 Profit

Cost of operating Alberta's treasury branches will amount to $1,070,000 in the next fiscal year, Premier Manning's budget disclosed yesterday. Last year the cost was $95,000.

Revenue from the branches is expected to exceed estimated expenditures by about $117,000. Four new branches will be opened within the year.

Old Pensioners Get More Care And More Money

Residence in a rest home for old-age pensioners, announced by the Alberta government in its 1950-51 budget, more money than usual will be paid to provide pensioners with medical care.

Estimated cost of treatment and medical services for pensioners will amount to $1,022,000, an increase of $127,000 over last year's expenditure for this purpose.

Teenager After Look

NEWTON, Mass.—(UP)—John Light, Jr., 16, expects to find $500,000 this year. Believed the youngest diver in New England, Light plans to hunt the bulk of a stolen plate treasure ship on the ocean bottom off Cape Cod.

Third of All Revenue Now From Oil and Gas

Revenue from natural resources is now supplying one third of the total provincial revenue, and is the province's biggest source of income.

In 1949-50 fiscal year, leading source of revenue was dominion provincial tax transfer, which increased 34.53 per cent of the total income.

When tax transfer agreements were the largest source of revenue, natural resource revenue averaged 19.5 per cent of total revenue. Now, revenue from this source is estimated at 31.5 per cent of the total.

In the 1950-51 fiscal year, 20.5 per cent of the government's income will come from car and truck licenses and gasoline taxes, 13.75 per cent from liquor, hotel, and fire, 24.25 per cent from tax transfer, 24.25 per cent from natural resources, and 9.75 per cent from all other sources.

Eerie Death In Gas Tank Being Probed

CALGARY, March 4.—(CP)—Allen Rundle, 33, of Calgary, collapsed in an empty gas tank at an Alberta industrial plant here and died en route to hospital yesterday.

A second man, George Bilby, 38, is in hospital, suffering from shock and possible carbon monoxide poisoning.

Pending an autopsy, cause of Rundle's death was not known. A company official said Rundle was entering the tank by means of a ladder when he collapsed and fell several feet. Bilby went to his rescue and also collapsed, but did not lose consciousness.

Both men wore gas masks.

POSSIBLE SEIZURE
The two men were pulled from the tank by fellow workers and were treated for possible gas poisoning. However, a doctor who examined Rundle expressed belief the victim showed signs of a heart seizure rather than of poisoning.

Officials said they did not believe there was enough carbon monoxide in the empty tank to effect the collapse of the men.

Bilby's condition was reported satisfactory in hospital last night. He was scheduled to undergo blood tests to determine cause of his illness.

Officials said the plant had a high safety record and that no fatalities from carbon monoxide had ever been experienced.

Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter, it's the same old problem whether applied to the individual or to the family... and a lot of people unnecessarily deprive themselves of things they need until the season is half over, because they haven't arranged for a Johnstone Walker Budget Plan.

Johnstone Walker Limited would welcome your application for a Budget Plan on any individual transaction or accumulated purchases of 15.00 or over.

A budget plan only calls for a down payment of 20 per cent and the balance in convenient monthly installments over a period not exceeding six months and in the event of an extension beyond three months, a small carrying charge would be added.

General Hospital authorities report her condition as poor.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime By Webster

Preventing Forest Fires

The news from the provincial forestry department that no permits for burning will be issued after April 1 is welcome to the people of Alberta.

Last year, this province took a loss of $4,500,000 in forest fires.

Since federal forestry officials calculate that 82 per cent of all forest fires are preventable, this means that no less than $3,290,000 was paid out in Alberta during 1949 as a premium on human folly and carelessness.

So much is known about the cause of forest fires that the prevention of them should not present an insurmountable difficulty.

Federal experts say that the result of their research shows the following causes: Campfires, 17 per cent; smokers, 23 per cent; settlers, 11 per cent; railways, 12 per cent; lightning, 18 per cent; industrial, 1 per cent.

We hope this precaution will be sufficient to prevent another loss of $4,500,000 in 1950.

Alberta's Policy of Immigration

Alberta's immigration policy, administered by the Hon. A. J. Hooke, is working out so well and is established on such sound lines that many will feel it would make an excellent pattern for the federal authorities to follow.

As Mr. Hooke explained it in the legislature last week, it is friendly rather than quantity that Alberta is seeking in new residents.

And it is the policy of the provincial government that no settler should be brought into Alberta without a place being made for him in advance.

In short, the policy is that industries should precede immigration. And since Alberta is going out after new industries in a systematic and intelligent way, the two operations, four per cent; incendiary, two per cent; public works, two per cent; miscellaneous known, six per cent; miscellaneous, five per cent.

Under all circumstances, authorities declare, 82 per cent of these are preventable.

Last year in mid-July, when 15 fires were raging at one time, The Edmonton Bulletin enquired what was being done to control the 82 per cent of controllable fires.

It has required more than seven months to get an answer to that question.

But here it is.

The province will forbid all burning after April 1 unless the spring is unusually wet.

Under all circumstances, authorities declare, 82 per cent of these are preventable.

Immigration

projects are going forward hand in hand. The disaster to be avoided in immigration, of course, is that no immigrants should be brought in to compete for jobs with Canadians already established here.

That is a cardinal point.

The provincial policy appears to adhere to it.

Of 12,000 inquiries made at Alberta House in London, some 4,000 persons were screened out to come to this province last year.

Male applicants are required to possess special skills. Female applicants must be qualified typists, nurses or domestics.

This system has worked out so successfully that out of the 4,000 accepted in 1949, it is difficult to trace a single failure.

The Temptation of Jesus Christ

The penitential season of Lent is based historically on the 40 days and nights spent by our Lord fasting in the wilderness as described in the Gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke.

As everyone is familiar with the story, Jesus fasted for this period, it is presumed, to prepare Himself for His ministry. And during the weakness of temptation, Satan tempted Him in a desperate effort to turn Him from the purpose that was to culminate in His death.

The Bible stories tell of the last three and most terrible of these temptations.

First, the devil suggested that Jesus, through His divine power, should turn the stones into bread and satisfy His hunger.

Next, he suggested that our Lord should cast Himself down from the pinnacle of the temple and demonstrate that divine power by reaching the ground unhurt.

Finally Satan showed Christ all the kingdoms of the world and offered them to Him if He would accept Satan's one act of worship.

Jesus resisted all these temptations and it is important to understand exactly why.

He refused to change the stones into bread because, had He done so, He would have lifted Himself up above His own sphere as the Son of Man. He had taken our flesh and blood in order that He might suffer all human sorrows and share with Canadians already established here.

Jesus Christ

That is a cardinal point.

The provincial policy appears to adhere to it.

Of 12,000 inquiries made at Alberta House in London, some 4,000 persons were screened out to come to this province last year.

Male applicants are required to possess special skills. Female applicants must be qualified typists, nurses or domestics.

This system has worked out so successfully that out of the 4,000 accepted in 1949, it is difficult to trace a single failure.

He refused to bow to Satan for the sake of possessing the world because He knew that Satan was trying to appeal to His human cupidity. Had He accepted Satan's offer, He would have gained the world but lost the souls of men.

Lent is a time of temptation for men as well as for Christ.

And men will resist that temptation because of their own love for the Cross, as Christ Himself chose Calvary rather than the kingdoms of the world.

Somebody Should Call A Canasta Conference

Perhaps the most pressing social need of this peninsula is a national or even an international conference on the subject of a single set of rules for canasta.

Before I go any further, let me say that I have a searching faith in conferences.

When people are in doubt about some issue, they get together and have a conference.

As a result they either reach a rational decision, or make the whole business weirder.

So obscure WEIR that they decide to just forget about it.

This is why I demand an international conference on canasta. The game should either be made to conform to the standard of civilized society or it should be completely abolished.

As a game, canasta is breaking up illiterate frontiers, creating divisions in relations, and generally making things worse.

And the reason is that to two persons play, it is according to exactly the same set of rules.

Sinister Influence

I maintain that canasta, as it is now, is a sinister influence in our social structure because it appears to have some mysterious power to bring out the very best in human nature.

I used to think that bridge was the outstanding culprit of the human kind.

But now, I have no doubt that a widespread campaign of bridge in her throat, over a faithful of small denomination cards is a right to call the bridge.

Letters to the Editor

Happy Russia

Editor, Bulletin.—In the Bulletin I have seen a wreath of a "great leader, great teacher and the greatest friend of mankind," from Moscow. The "Happy" world here again could send him their candidate for Supreme Soviet. So great, so beloved and so friendly Stalin is that, and a single group of workers in a whole Russia could or would even dream of naming another candidate for Supreme Soviet for that great "democratic" election on March 15 and that must be the envy of many workers all the world over.

And no doubt, for he has ever heard of coal strikes, railway strikes, steel strikes or hunger marches in Russia? Have you ever heard of any complaint under his leadership? No, say you have not. You could not, for those things in a country under a democratic rule, but not in a democratic Russia. Should you be dubious about that, ask any Communist right here in our city. You could find him in many departments of our social, political, educational, scientific and industrial structures.

How well it would be if our group could send him a delegation, say for six months to Russia in exchange for some representation from Russia and then he be given an opportunity to study the ways of life in each country, and then the great leader would come back in due time explain to the general public what they had seen and heard.

May be that Joe Stalin does have something worth while to say to the people of Canada and the United States. But such exchange shall never happen, and the "great teacher, the greatest leader, and the greatest friend of mankind," Mr. Joe Stalin, will see to it that no one learns how it is done, for, if he did, no Russian army, no atomic bomb and no "Wallington" could keep him from his people on the idea of Marxism. In plain words, Joe Stalin would win.

Old Age Pension

Editor, Bulletin.—The frigid opening of the season is over. Premier, ministers, members, are at their seats facing the duty they have to do.

However, the authorities, fed up with the "old age pension" part seem to forget that they are temporarily administrators responsible to the face of the old men, of the wealth of the state, for the welfare of every human being.

Take the old age pension. It is a question to mention, yet, the high standard of living has been set. It is the same of all the means test, the definition of "old age" is withheld unjustly since last June.

Now it is the period of Lent, and the old age pension is withheld.

So, Mr. Manning, prime minister of Alberta, also minister of the church, what have you done until now of your promises of delivery.

Here is advice for a relief of your conscience. As proof of your conscience, what have you done until now of your promises of delivery.

DP's In Canada

Editor, Bulletin.—The job for these people who want to find the place to live, and not to be a "DP" in Canada, is to find the place to live, and not to be a "DP" in Canada.

This country we proudly call Canada, consists of 3,600,000 square miles, with a population of approximately 12 million people. This means there is approximately 34 persons per square mile. In other words, 12 million people are paying taxes to support a country that can hold a few paying population enough to ten times our present population.

Canada has untold-unstapped potential wealth that needs developing, and which requires a large population to handle a home market. Canada has 64 per cent of the world's nickel, 12 per cent of the world's copper, leads in the world in the production of newsprint, and grows enough wheat annually to feed 90,000,000 people.

DP's In Canada

Editor, Bulletin.—The job for these people who want to find the place to live, and not to be a "DP" in Canada, is to find the place to live, and not to be a "DP" in Canada.

This country we proudly call Canada, consists of 3,600,000 square miles, with a population of approximately 12 million people. This means there is approximately 34 persons per square mile. In other words, 12 million people are paying taxes to support a country that can hold a few paying population enough to ten times our present population.

Canada has untold-unstapped potential wealth that needs developing, and which requires a large population to handle a home market. Canada has 64 per cent of the world's nickel, 12 per cent of the world's copper, leads in the world in the production of newsprint, and grows enough wheat annually to feed 90,000,000 people.

Detweiler Plan Has Weaknesses

Edmonton has wanted new buildings, an auditorium and parking and many facilities for such a revenue project, particularly when not only the buildings but the city itself would be built on the same basis. It could also pay the interest and principal, just as will be the case under the Detweiler scheme, but this did not, then, at the end of 25 years the revenue would get 100% of the revenue and not just 25%.

Yet the only difference in allowing the Detweiler plan to go through is that Edmonton will donate 75% of the revenue for 75 years. A profit of 75% of the revenue for 75 years after you have got your principal and interest in full, is certainly a healthy profit for any investment group. Yet that is exactly what this proposal amounts to.

But there is another feature. Most buildings pay heavy taxes and they can only reduce their rates on for before going broke. With the Detweiler building, it would be easy to cut rates as low as a barbershop, because, so long as they collected enough to pay principal and interest, and operating costs, it would make no difference whether there was anything left for the city.

Income Small

As a matter of fact, there is nothing to suggest that the building would ever be rented for enough to give the city anything.

In that case, the investors would still be getting all the money and they would be able to operate as they wish. Since they could quote rents below what the city could pay, they would be able to meet their tax payment.

It is true that this would be that the tax-paying buildings would be put out of business to the detriment of the city, but the city would be able to operate for the bondholders. Such a situation could easily be avoided.

This is in the clearest form. This proposal offers the investors a guaranteed security and makes certain they will get their money back, and it takes three quarters of the profit. That is one good reason for anyone to take the city.

The city council is as anxious as anyone to get something going, but in spite of the dressing, this deal needs drastic changes before it can be considered for one minute.

Voted Moderation

The indelevence of the British elections may make it hard for the government to take bold action on pressing questions involving relations with Washington and Europe.

But it is an error to compare the British elections with the French. The French third round represents a dead end, not a dramatic climax, as it actually held hostage by the Gaullists on the right and the Communists on the left.

In Britain, there is nothing to suggest that the Labour government will be able to hold its own in the face of the Conservative opposition. The Labour government will be able to hold its own in the face of the Conservative opposition.

Freedom to Sue Asked of Crown As Civic Right

WINNIPEG, March 4.—(CP)—Lewer member of the Manitoba legislature urged that private citizens be given the right to sue the crown without having to ask the crown for its permission.

Tom Turner, coalition Liberal Progressive member for Winnipeg South, said the crown should be put in the same position as an individual as far as legal action is concerned.

The flat system, under which the crown grants permission for suits against it, is "outmoded and antiquated," and a remnant of Stuart notions about the divine right of kings, Mr. Turner said.

Wage Dispute Offer Made

NEW YORK, March 4.—(UP)—Striking members of the CIO Transport Workers' Union will meet Monday to consider a federal mediator's request to go back to their jobs with the American Airlines pending settlement of the nationwide dispute.

The T.W.U. officers said 20 locals involved in the walkout would be asked to accept a proposal made by Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the mediation board. O'Neill said he would begin negotiations before the board in Washington Monday.

The 4,600 mechanics, inspectors and storekeepers went on strike Wednesday to press their contract demands for a 20-cent-an-hour raise and wage increase. The airlines operations have been cut at least 80 per cent. The union said all planes would be grounded by next Tuesday.

Turkey Asks Canada To Triple Its Exports

By John E. Bird
Exclusive to The Bulletin

OTTAWA, March 4.—(BUP)—A Turkish trade official said today his country wanted to triple its purchases in Canada and hit about $1,000,000 a year.

Small Kavadar, commercial attaché at the Turkish embassy here, said Turkey could very easily increase its imports of Canadian goods from 1947's $1,000,000 to between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

"PRICES JUST RIGHT"

"Turkey at the present time needs many kinds of goods produced in Canada," he said. "We would like to hit the $4,000,000 figure because Canadian prices are just right for us."

Kavadar said, however, that while Turkish imports that year would probably exceed their 1949 figure, a $4,000,000 business was out of the question for the time being because of the world market, most of which is in the United Kingdom.

On the other side of the ledger, he said, Turkey's businessmen were interested in boosting their Canadian exports of such goods as fur, wool, tobacco, cotton, skins, furs, wines and liquors.

Canada buys more

In the meantime, Canada could help stimulate Turkish buying here by buying more from Turkey, he said. Kavadar said that Turkey bought $1,000,000 worth of Canadian goods in 1949 but Canadian purchases of Turkish goods added up to only $1,150,000.

"He said, however, that last year's Canadian imports from his country compared with only $800,000 in 1949."

The Turkish government wanted to get enough dollars to buy more railway ties, pipelines from the

Big Drug Bail Out to $30,000 After Record Set

WINNIPEG, March 4.—(CP)—Bail totaling $30,000 was granted yesterday to three persons awaiting trial on narcotic charges.

John Klusick, 35, was granted bail of $30,000 by Mr. Justice J. T. Beaulieu. This is $20,000 less than the bail set by Magistrate D. G. Potter when Klusick was arrested Feb. 8. That $50,000 figure was the highest in Manitoba criminal history.

William Klusick, brother of John, and Stella Smallwood were allowed bail of $20,000 each.

The three accused, along with Peter Klusick, were committed Tuesday for trial at the next session on 44 different charges under the Narcotic Drug Act, as well as charges of conspiracy.

Sit-Downers To Continue

NEW YORK, March 4.—(UP)—Fifteen men and women, who spent a cold, hungry week on a sit strike against the Ford and General Motors car plants, said today they will continue their fight on the picket line.

The strikers, who had lived only on coffee, tea and chocolate bars during the seven days they spent at the plant, left the building yesterday on the advice of their wholesale and warehouse union president, David Livingston.

Livingston told the strikers to stop sitting-in after conferring with state supreme court Justice Felix Frankfurter to forestall legal action to oust them.

The strikers promised to continue their fight to prevent the company from moving to Pontiac, N.J., without paying severance pay. They want to American Labor Party headquarters for food and encouragement.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, Saturday, March 4, 1960

TODAY'S MESSAGE

GOD AND CAESAR

No man, Christ warned in the Gospels, can serve two masters. He cannot be the friend of God and yet betray Him. If he praises God with his lips, but sins against Him in his heart, he risks damnation. "He not devoted," St. Paul wrote in his Epistle to the Galatians, "God is not mocked."

It is right to render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's. But too many men divide the things that are God's between Caesar and God. This is the sin of those who try to compromise with the principles of religion. It is the folly of those who let worldly interests blind their eyes to His supreme authority.

In the days of the Spanish-American Empire, it often happened that when the ruler of a remote province received an unwelcome order from the Spanish king, he would reverently kiss the document and solemnly proclaim that the royal command would be obeyed and not carried out.

There are Christians who act in precisely the same way in regard to the mandates of God. Deference to God's will is basic to all religion. Yet too often the glitter of wealth, power, or popularity tempts men to proclaim—unwarily at least—"I honor God, but I will obey Caesar."

Every surrender to sensuality, pride or vindictiveness, every yearning after corrupt pleasure or forbidden gain involves a disavowal of Christ. The man who betrays Christ for Caesar has a split personality—a spiritual schizophrenia. He gravitates between conscience and expediency, good and evil. And he is never happy.

It is often at the cost of bitter grief that a man learns he cannot find peace in exalting Caesar over God. Anxiety, doubt and fear prey upon every soul that strays from its appointed route. There is only one sure road along which true contentment and joy may be found. This is the road of unquestioning and undivided loyalty to God.

In rendering to God the things that are His, men are surely blessed, even though they cannot perceive how constantly the shadow of God is upon them.

Winnipeg Rector All Saints Guest

Lenten Series Next Week

Conducted By Rev. Gartrell

Rev. F. R. Gartrell, rector of St. George's Church, Winnipeg, will be guest speaker in the noon-day Lenten series being conducted at All Saints Cathedral, 100 street, throughout Lent.

Mr. Gartrell will speak Sunday at St. Mark's Church, 104th-111 street, at the morning service and at St. John's Church, 40th-46th street, in the evening.

The Lenten series at the cathedral begins at 12:15 p.m. and concludes at 12:40 p.m., Monday through Friday.

This week's services, conducted by Very Rev. R. G. Calvert, dean of British Columbia, have been "very well attended," according to Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Anglican Bishop of Edmonton.

Mr. Gartrell, in charge of next week's services, was educated at McMaster University and Woodville College. Ordained deacon in 1938, he was raised to the priesthood in 1939 in the Diocese of Montreal.

He was curate at St. James' in Montreal from 1938 to 1946, and in 1946 and 1947 Mr. Gartrell was named to his Winnipeg parish late in 1945.

Joyce Pleases At Eastwood

A successful preaching mission was held recently in the Eastwood United Church where Rev. T. J. Stainton, M.A., is minister. Services were conducted by Rev. Harry Joyce, D.D., formerly pastor of St. Andrews United Church, Regina.

Mr. Joyce dealt with such important themes as "Who holds the future?" "Living up to the levels of our best?" "Religion with reservation?" "The 'Real' Husbands?" "Divided allegiance?" "Facing Against Time?" On the last evening he gave an illustrated lecture on "My trip to Palestine" to a large and appreciative audience.

The quiet, persuasive manner of Mr. Joyce was very effective. Dr. Joyce is conducting similar missions in other parts in Alberta.

New Apartments Are Ultra Modern

Cliff-Dwellers Benefit
By Latest Developments

NEW YORK (UP)—Fancy additions to modern apartment buildings are designed to make city dwellers forget about the trees and the gardens they're missing.

Bigger rooms, more terraces, more built-in conveniences, and fancy party rooms and restaurants are a few of the apartment building's new ideas.

A round apartment building with outside walls of glass is the dream of William Zeckendorf, famous New York builder, who says every apartment would have a terrace and a 30-foot window. The building, which is only in the model stage so far, would have removable partitions so tenants could arrange rooms to suit their needs.

LATEST GADGETS

Work has begun on an ultra-modern apartment house which has a more conventional exterior, but the latest gadgets indoors. Built on the site of the old Schwab mansion overlooking the Hudson River, the Manhattan building will be the world's largest apartment house.

Herbert Fischbach, who heads the real estate firm building the apartment house, says it will contain 634 apartments, ranging in size from 1½ rooms to 5 rooms.

Every living room will have at least one television outlet. Electric dishwashers and refrigerators with deep freeze compartments will be installed in the kitchen. A baby carriage garage on the first floor will have separate compartments for each family to store the car.

CONVERTIBLE

Fischbach believes apartment tenants prefer dining rooms, so he designed a "convertible" dining room. With one room, close to the kitchen when can be used either as a bedroom or a dining room.

Apartment tenants are entitled to a spacious living as much as a home owner. Fischbach said. He doesn't regard the foggy as waste space. They can become part of the living room for entertaining.

MAID SERVICE

Twenty-four-hour maid service and baby sitting service are two more conveniences for living away from the mother. A restaurant, plus separate rooms which can be reserved for many guests, take care of the apartment's social life.

When two gardens, sea decks and parking services, the apartment owners are building a new type of apartment and convenience for city dwellers.

According to Fischbach, war-torn cities in Asia, income tax, and other factors will lead to the new type of apartment.

Wood Waste Used in New Type Block

A versatile form of building block, requiring no mortar between joints is made of rough wood shavings, chemically mineralized and mixed with cement.

Extremely rough in texture, these blocks can be piled up, cement can be poured into their standard notched holes to tie them together, form pillars of support, and spread sufficiently between the blocks to fill the need for mortar.

Plaster and stucco can be applied directly to their smooth installation, and without danger of delamination.

In the search for aggregates for concrete, in addition to sand and an aggregate, concrete blocks have been made of clinder, mica, diatomaceous earth containing shell fossils, and of various other bulk. The use of wood shavings originated in Switzerland, John Dale, president of Durlon, Inc., reports that the principle is finding wide usage in modern construction.

Compared to this panels in modular units are used for a healthful, insulating, plaster base. Although not fireproof, the material has a five-hour fire resistance rating.

SECRET OF COLOR

Science and Industry Study Phenomenon
Science and industry have trained these questions, will cover a period of one of nature's oldest, most important, the existing concept of color in common, and yet most mysterious functional use of color in phenomenon—the secret, color homes, schools, offices, institutions and factories.

Seeking the answer to this age-old puzzle is a special long range project set up August 1, 1948 by the Institute for Cooperative Research of the John Hopkins University and sponsored by the Federal Department of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

According to Dr. W. R. Garner, director of the institute's psychological laboratory, the research and development work in the field of color will include "the investigation of psychophysical and physiological reactions of human beings to color in industrial establishments, offices, hospitals, schools and homes."

Sponsor of the project, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, which is a leader in the scientific use of color, is developing a special system of painting known as Color Dynamics. It has found the use of certain colors and combinations have produced highly beneficial results.

COLOR DOES AFFECT US

Speaking of this, E. D. Peck, Pittsburgh's general paint manager, said, "color is an very necessary and an very fundamental that the broadest use of color has somewhat surprised our understanding of its optimum effect."

"While it is true," he continued, "that we know from actual field tests and experience, starting in 1940, that certain hues, values and colors of colors influence mental attitudes and create physical reactions, we do not know precisely how they and to what specific degree."

We seek refinement and explanation of existing knowledge through fundamental research of the "Big" color in a course; combination in the basic color.

The project will seek to answer many

Future Home Owners Aided By N.Z. Gov't

By J. C. Graham

WELLINGTON, N.Z., March 4.—(C.P.)—New Zealand's new National party government has announced a large-scale drive to encourage people to own their own homes.

It is almost a truism to say that the policy of the previous Socialist government which aimed at renting houses to the public under this policy the state became by far the largest landlord in the country.

A major step in the new program is the abolition of all land sales—rental except on farm lands which will come in for attention later. Under the existing system all sales of land and buildings have come before land tribunals which fix a price based on 1942 values. It is illegal to sell above this price, but in practice a large proportion of sales of homes and buildings have been accompanied by an illegal advance payment to the seller.

Now that owners can legally sell at their own prices, a large number of homes which have been withheld from the market are likely to be offered for sale. Prices are expected to rise substantially, as 1942 values are well below present free market levels, but whether the new prices will be above the under-estimates which have been ruled until now remains to be seen. In any case, the new system will be greatly reduced.

Another step in the government's scheme is the offering of building loans up to about $6000 to home builders. They will be available up to 90 per cent of the value of the homes for civilians and 100 per cent for ex-servicemen. The government will also grant suspension of interest up to 600 to home builders.

No interest will be payable as long as the owner lives in his house and after seven years the loan will be cancelled. If the owner wishes to sell first after the house to the government and if he agrees to live in the house he must pay interest on the loan.

Latest Gadget Moves Homes

In Chelsea, Mass., 100 homes were moved last year by a machine called referred to as "The Gadget."

It's a U-shaped affair, with tires ten feet high. It can carry a load of over 100 tons, or more than twice the weight of the average large home.

It can pick up a three-story brick house in 15 minutes and haul it to a new site many miles away.

Families can leave their furniture in the building and the job is done without cracking plaster or even rattling dishes in the cupboard.

Preparing the house for moving into the biggest job. Hoists are used to lift the structure as high as 15 to 20 feet and can be moved under the house.

Plumbing and electrical lines are disconnected. The house is raised on jacks, rested on steel rollers, and then pushed a mile away from its foundation.

The Gadget then takes over the job: it goes right around the house, picks it up and hauls it down the street at four miles an hour.

Homeowners discovered a new plan. Henry O. Hameel, which carries out the work, can be used on houses not moving. It spreads well, sets into hard-to-reach places. Limitation: The job must be spread over a wide area.

ADDING ROOM MADE EASY FOR AMATEUR

If you are planning to add a room to your house and are worried about the lack of basement under-neath—stop worrying now.

A man who built his own house and then added a room has already solved the problem.

He first laid an inexpensive sub-structure and covered this with concrete. Since the tile was hollow, the contained dead air space absorbed all the ground moisture, leaving the floor waterproof and warm.

The two-inch layer of concrete poured over the sub-structure made a good solid floor.

A desirable platform costs 25¢ per sq. ft. and is made of concrete.

Write for an illustrated booklet, "How to Build Your Own Room," to Mr. Hameel, 10710 95 St., Edmonton, Alberta. Phone 21675.

On the Farm
(Editor's Note: This is the final article in a series written especially for The Bulletin by Mrs. David A. Ure, Minister of Agriculture, on the subject of agriculture, in which Alberta's agriculture prospects for 1950 are outlined.)

By Hon David A. Ure
Minister of Agriculture
Viewing the recent market trends of agriculture products, Alberta farmers are likely to take action in 1950 somewhat along these lines:

They will now slightly more, because they are worried about a result of several years of reasonable prices and because Canada is committed to supply 200,000 bushels under the World Trade Agreement. The acreage needed to raise and store in Alberta will probably increase slightly, as well. These grains have been relatively high priced for the past year or so, and they are in rather short supply, as well. More food crops should be grown in 1950, too.

CATTLE
The production of beef cattle is expected to remain at present levels. Swine production may increase in the fall of 1950, especially if there is a good crop of corn. Swine production will not change appreciably in 1950.

The clover contract with Great Britain, now four years on, butter and high-moisture establishment will be a favorable factor for dairy production. No doubt some decline in poultry production will occur. The present price on eggs is such that it can be expected most producers will remain in the business. It can be expected, however, that inefficient or inefficient producers may curtail or may discontinue their production.

In other phases of the industry, there is likely to be a larger acreage.

Home Knowledge Can Stop Trouble

Shut-Off Valve Location Can Prevent Flooding

To cartoonists and other such people, it may seem funny when the plumbing in the house starts to overflow, but to the householder, it is a serious matter.

To prevent such a situation, it is advisable that the entire house hold be familiar with the location of every shut-off valve. A coat of white paint applied to the valves will make them easy to recognize.

It is also a good idea to label the main gas-off valve, usually located near the meter, still more prominently, by painting a short section of the piping leading to and from it.

WATER OFF
Before most repair work can be done on the supply system, the water must be cut off. To replace a common compression faucet, look for the trouble in the rest of the house. To replace this washer, unscrew the cap nut, turn the stem until it can be lifted out, and remove the brass retaining screw holding the washer.

If the screw is badly corroded, it should be renewed. Clean out the threads with a tap of the proper size and then set a new washer.

TO STOP FAUCET
To stop a faucet from leaking around the stem, try tightening the cap nut. If this doesn't work, replace the stem washer. Simply remove the handle, unscrew the cap nut, and lift it off the stem.

There isn't anything more annoying than a toilet that overflows or doesn't stop running. There is no individual valve to shut off the flow of water through a toilet. To stop the flow of water, turn off the main valve or flush the tank and tie the shut-off float at a level that will shut off the water before the tank starts to refill.

RUBBER STOPPER
If water runs steadily in the toilet bowl, the trouble generally is in the rubber ball stopper. Unscrew the ball from its guide rod and examine it. If the ball is worn or deformed, it should be replaced. If the ball is in good condition, the trouble is in the guide rod. Tighten the guide rod and examine it. If the ball is worn

Novel Way To Saw Plywood

Two blocks nailed to one side of a 2x4 provide a convenient holder for sawing plywood that will keep the work from flexing and vibrating.

The blocks are spaced slightly closer together than the width of the plywood sheet.

The latter is bowed and wedged between the blocks, the resilience of the material holding it in place.

Labor, Industry Eye Auto Centre Unique Labor-Management Relations Underway There

By Robert Phillips

WINNIPEG, Ont., March 4.—(CP)—The eyes of labor and industry are focused on this heart of the Canadian automobile industry, where a revolutionary concept of union-management relations is being forged.

Principal participants are the handful of car manufacturers and their thousands of employed workmen, members of the huge United Automobile Workers (UAW).

The big question is what extent is an employer responsible for his worker's welfare, above and beyond his wages and day-to-day working conditions? The issue centers around company-financed pensions and government social security.

LABOR GAINS

Since 1949 entered negotiations late in 1949, labor has won industry's voluntary acceptance of the principle of company-paid pensions; industry has won government approval of its claim to be able to administer the pension in its own way.

But little is settled. The union's demands of Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd., where more than 11,000 are employed, has been a concession board. Similar demands of Chrysler Corporation of Canada Ltd., employer of some 4,000, now are under consideration. This is what the UAW wants:

PENSION DEMANDS

A 400-month retirement pension at 65 for workers with 25 years' service; lesser amounts for workers disabled before retirement or who have less than 25 years' service at normal retirement age. It wants the companies to pay the full cost but a union-management board to administer the plan.

The companies counter offer: They suggest $35 a month for workers at age 65 after 25 years' service. They agree to pay it all but want a company right to administer the money in their own way.

The Canadian union's choice of $100 as its pension objective arises from adoption of that amount as the basis for agreement between the UAW in the United States and the U.S. Ford Motor Company Ltd.

MAJORITY REPORT

That agreement, says the majority report of the Canadian conciliation board which sat on the Ford-union dispute here, might be described as an agreement to understand the difference between $100 a month and what is provided by general social security legislation in the United States.

U.S. social security legislation provides a part of retirement fund which pays the participant an amount up to $24 a month. It is financed by government and employer contributions. Only comparable arrangement in Canada is the Ford-union plan. It is formed or were being formed in present non-contributory old-age funds, Ontario, Smith's Point, Ont. General feeling here is that the Kingston, Hamilton and Vancouver pension negotiations are directed TRIOUBLE CENTRE in Los Angeles is this new $2,000,000 luxury hotel, recently ordered closed by Municipal Judge Vernon Hunt. He described ultra-modern edifices in exclusive section as appearing to be "plotted quickie motel" where he saw "sporty-type" women when he inspected it. Owners, brothers Zimmels and Maurice Miller were fined and sentenced to jail for failing to get proper permits for structure.

HOTEL OPERATORS Zimmels Miller, left, and brother Maurice, co-owners of recently condemned luxury hotel, are pictured shortly after fining and sentencing for failing to observe building ordinances.

MUNICIPAL JUDGE Vernon Hunt, who he ordered destruction of hotel, also said he was "architectural monotony." Members plan appeal to higher courts.

U.S. Senate To Hear Arguments On Rents

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(UP)—Chairman Bernard R. Maybank, (D-S.C.) promised today "full hearings" by his Senate banking committee or its housing sub-committee on an administration bill extending rent controls.

The measure was introduced late yesterday by Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas, Ill., and Whip Francis B. Byrd, Va. It would extend controls for one year to July 1, 1951.

Maybank declined to predict whether his committee would approve such a bill. But he promised to send some sort of rent bill to the Senate floor for action.

He and other key senators said, however, that any extension bill faced tough opposition in both the Senate and House. Several influential legislators are opposed to any continuation whatever of rent ceilings.

IN AGREEMENT

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D. Ala., chairman of the housing sub-committee, agreed with Maybank there is no need for immediate hearings on the issue.

Maybank said the banking committee would decide Tuesday whether to let the full committee or smaller group conduct the hearings.

Neither Maybank nor Sparkman would comment on the Lucas-Meyers proposal before the hearings.

STILL A PROBLEM

In introducing his bill, Myers said in a statement that lifting rent ceilings in many communities would result in calamity because their housing shortages have not yet been licked.

He said the Senate should face

Jobless Get Steady Union

OTTAWA, March 4.—(UPI)—The National Federation of Unemployed Workers (NFWU) will be a permanent organization for Canada's jobless, it was announced here today.

The decision to continue the organization on a permanent basis was made at a meeting of the Federation's administrative committee. The committee also decided to adopt the slogan "full employment" and to make it a permanent slogan.

The committee reported that local labor groups had now been able to arrange in Canada is the formed or were being formed in present non-contributory old-age funds, Ontario, Smith's Point, Ont. General feeling here is that the Kingston, Hamilton and Vancouver pension negotiations are directed

OTTAWA LIKES ALBERTA PLAN FOR ARTHRITIS

OTTAWA, Mar. 4.—(UPI)—The federal government will help Alberta finance an experimental program for the diagnosis and treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, health minister Paul Martin said yesterday.

The new program was purely experimental, he emphasized. Free treatment would be available only to a small group of patients under 21.

Medical researchers hoped to add to gain further knowledge of the effectiveness of various methods of treatment of this disease, and to develop a "pilot plan" program to aid other groups concerned with arthritis treatment.

Calgary Draws Big Water Plan

OTTAWA, March 4.—(UPI)—Exclusive to The Bulletin

CALGARY, March 4.—(UPI)—A waterworks program costing $20,000,000 will be recommended by Calgary city commissioners to council.

The plan calls for installation of meters on a three-year program with the initial cost close to $250,000.

New mains and replacements are estimated at $1,000,000. The equipment and two reservoirs are to cost $1,250,000.

Butter Floor Due to Drop

OTTAWA, March 4.—(UPI)—The government's support price for butter will be reduced by five or six cents a pound April 1, dairy experts forecast today.

Simple production combined with lower support prices usually result in a generally lower price to the consumer.

The new support price will be announced within the next three weeks. The current price of about 38 cents a pound may dip to 33 or 32 cents.

Experts said the government will lower the butter floor to:

1. Prevent accumulation of surpluses which occurred as a result of the government's entry into the butter business.

2. Bring the butter floor more into line with the lower support price for cheese. It dropped from 38 to 27 cents a pound.

The government has about 50,000,000 pounds of butter and still has in storage about 30,000,000 pounds, unused.

The government has about the butter industry to help it find export outlets for at least 10,000,000 pounds.

Canada, normally, never has been an exporter of butter, but the introduction of margarine has changed the picture.

Mount Hainer and Point Success, 14,000 and 14,500 feet high, respectively, are the two highest peaks in Washington State.

Navy Drops Practice Of Training In RN

OTTAWA, March 4.—(UPI)—The navy announced a big new step to Canadianize its fleet and eliminate officer tendencies towards English accents.

It fitted into recommendations of the Manning Royal Commission, which brought down a lengthy report on the service last fall.

The announcement said naval cadets of the executive training—the general list that makes up the bulk of the officer-cadre will be trained in Canada rather than partly in Canada and partly in Britain.

It has been the practice to give them two years' training at Royal Military College or Royal Roads, the Canadian Maritime Academy, and then send them to the United Kingdom as cadets to train for another two or three years.

Thus it was the Royal Navy that rounded off their coast training, and inductively or otherwise, worked occasionally changes in young susceptible accents.

NOT COMPLETE BREAK

Now they will take four years at the Canadian cadets in the same way as Army and Air Force cadets and as naval cadets of the electrical and supply branches.

The change does not mean a complete break with training in the Royal Navy. Canadian officers will be sent there to take certain courses.

In-course training of future officers has changed from the Manning report, written by a three-man commission named to investigate civilian disabilities aboard RN warships.

The chairman was Rear-Admiral R. H. Manning, flag officer, Atlantic coast.

In 1907 a natural gas explosion destroyed a schoolhouse in New London, Conn., in the 90's, killed 34 teachers.

That Murderer's Row

As it turned out The Boy wasn't exactly averse to talking about his father, even though it was something of an effort.

"My mother never could get my father to go to a doctor," he said. "Guess he was kind of afraid of them or something. But he kept saying he wasn't feeling well."

That weekend The Boy and his mother had been visiting up on the Russian River, north of San Francisco. Before they returned home, the blow fell.

The Boy's father died with dramatic suddenness, and the baseball world, particularly, was shocked.

For this tall, slender kid seated at the counter beside me was Tony Lazzeri, Jr. And he had had a famed member of New York Yankees in the days of the original Murderers' Row—Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Bob Meusel, Earle Combs, Mark Koenig and more.

"My father was just 42 when he died," Tony, Jr., answered a question. "That was about four years ago."

And while we talked—and he made frequent references to his late father, and his mother, with whom he makes his home in San Francisco—never once did he mention 'Dad' or 'Mom'.

Always it was "my father" or "my mother."

Loaded Down With Honors

Tony, Jr., was 14 when his father passed on. And he wasn't more than six or seven when his mother took him to see the Yankees when Chicago Cubs four straight to win the 1955 World Series.

By that time Joe Gordon had taken over from Tony's father at second base for the New Yorks. But Lazzeri, Sr., had won almost all the honors he could—World Series triumphs galore, all-star ratings, most valuable this, most valuable that.

And always he would be remembered as a member of the 1927 Yankees, greatest ball team of all time, in the opinion of many close students of the game. This was the New York club that pulverized Pittsburgh Pirates four straight in the World Series.

They say the Yankees won this year with a terrific display of power in hitting practice. Ruth and Gehrig, both now dead, peppered the right field stands and wall at Forbes Field. Lazzeri and others of the right-hand hitters, sniped away at the left field fence.

Pirates could hardly believe what they saw. They never got untracked, so impressed were they.

"My father always spoke highly of 'Babe' Ruth, not only as a great ball player, but as a swell man, too," The Boy remembered, with just a trace of sadness in his voice.

He's a Stringbean

Tony Lazzeri, Jr., is in our town with a California high school all-star basketball squad, the players recruited from around San Francisco.

And one look at his six foot, two and one-half inch frame makes one realize that he's probably meant to be a fine basketball, rather than baseball player. At 165 pounds, spread over that much territory, he seems to lack the heft to be a stand-out in the game his dad played so well.

"My father was stockier, alright, than I am," the pleasant-mannered kid with the dark brown eyes and softly modulated voice admitted. Tony, Sr., had lots of power. One season, before going up to the majors, he hit 80 home runs in the Pacific Coast circuit.

As the Yanks swept all before them in the 1927 season, Lazzeri battled in more than 100 runs. All through his lengthy major league career he was a long ball hitter, especially likely to poke one out in the clutch.

When Tony, Jr., gets back to San Francisco he hopes to work out at Sausalito Stadium, home of the Pacific Coast league club that operates out of that city.

"Guss I'll take a crack at the outfield," he explains. "You see my father warned me not to be a second baseman. He said I'd last longer in the outfield."

A very fine kid, Lazzeri junior.

Twin-Cities Friendly To Rice and Pals

St. Paul and Minneapolis long have been known as the Twin-Cities. But Gerry Rice, returned from the U.S. International bonspiel at St. Paul, is on record that the pair of Minnesota cities might just as easily be termed the "Friendly Cities."

Rice played lead on Jack Ruttan's rink. They won three of four matches played, but returned success served to put them too far along in the primary event for them to drop back to a secondary, once finally stopped.

Huttan, who won the Grand Challenge and Grand Aggregate at Edmonton "spiel" this year, lost to Al Kleiman, Hibbing, scoring 8-7 in a game that saw the two all square coming home.

Kleiman went on to triumph in the primary, Hibbing dragged down the aggregate.

"They showed us a wonderful time," Rice said, smiling, upon his return home early yesterday. "Once the curling was over for the day, we were taken in hand, we had a fine time."

Lock Up Fire Boy

SASKATOON, March 4.—(CP)—A 15-year-old Saskatoon boy, son of a fireman, was ordered yesterday by Municipal B. M. to lock up his father's car, committed to the industrial school, upon his return home early yesterday. "Once the curling was over for the day, we were taken in hand, we had a fine time."

LINDY BERRY

... Signs With Eskimos.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN STARS

Eskimos Sign Berry, Bailey

Edmonton Eskimos got cracking on their American import situation yesterday, signing two Texas Christian University stars to one-year contracts.

Manager Al Anderson announced that Lindy Berry and Morris Bailey had been signed yesterday, just minutes after the pair had picked up a bank draft, courtesy of the Eskimos, in Fort Worth.

First man to sign with Eskimos was Tom Cleary. The former Wake Forest star, who had picked a contract last week.

As reported by the Bulletin last week, quarterback Berry has been certain to come here ever since Anderson and coach Annis took him to see the Eskimos in San Francisco last January.

Bailey is an end who caught a lot of Berry's passes last fall; he is expected to arrive in Edmonton on July 1.

Both men are schooled in the science of the single wing and for that reason they are likely to be decided assets to Stukas who is a single wing himself.

Berry was the unanimous all-southern-quarterback last fall and gained more yards through the air than anyone else in the conference. In 1949 he completed 100 passes out of 220 attempts for total yardage of 1700.

In four years he gained 6,800 yards almost four miles by means of his aerial therapy.

As for Bailey, he is a 6-foot-11-inch specimen who tops the scales at 265 pounds. He led the conference in pass receiving last fall and was all-conference end. It is significant that he and Berry teamed capably on TCU's four victories, Bailey catching 66 of Berry's passes.

Anderson was particularly pleased in leading the pair because they give a dangerous passing combination. And that was something which the club lacked last fall.

Acquisition of Berry, however, leaves Edmonton with more quarterback than a dog has fleas. Since Bill Stukas and Chuck Pennington have had to be released.

Stukas was rumored to be headed for Calgary earlier this winter while Pennington's move or loss was indicated that he would like to wind up in Stampeder uniform.

Bombers Building Stronger Team

WINNIPEG, March 4.—(CP)—Winnipeg Blue Bombers who have "no second stars on the club this year," President Ralph Munster said last night.

Munster, addressing the club executive at a dinner meeting, said "we must produce 'It's do or die'." Bombers finished a useful last in the Western Interprovincial football Union last season.

Munster said Bombers are fairly well away on the matter of lineup from the United States, although no names have been released. However, the club will look to Canada's Canada players to make a "contribution."

The Winnipeg head said the club has not given up obtaining Tom Cleary, former Wake Forest star, from the Eskimos, even though it has been rumored that Cleary would be heading for the Stampeder outfit of the U.S. suggests on Tom Cleary, once he is a full-time player, would be a great asset to the club.

Quebecker Sets Record In Fast Downhill Race

By Earl Gibb
Bulletin Sports Writer

BANFF, March 4.—Former Dominion junior combined title holder, 17-year old Andre Bertrand, of Quebec City, raced down the Mount Norquay downhill run here yesterday to capture top honors in the downhill event of the Canadian Ski Championships.

Bertrand used about the mile and a half course in two minutes and one second to set a new hill record. North American and World champion champion Zeno Colz was timed 2:03 last weekend for the last previous record time.

The pre-met favorite, Austria's Egon Schuster, who placed third in the world meet at Aspen recently, clocked the 32 degree course in 2:03.3. Bob Richardson of Montreal, Quebec, was third.

Edmonton city champion Bob Dawson secured the best time of the five C.I. Capital entries. Dawson placed 23rd with a time of 1:02.7. He also made the slalom race today and should make a better showing since he has had lots of practice in this type of skiing.

However, Edmonton's skiers do not see the opportunity of seeing Bertrand, who is the dominion run hero.

Next Edmonton in line was Bruce McLean, who recorded a time of 1:28.8. McLean, who has been sick most of the week with the flu, made a good run considering his weak condition.

PROOFPOINT 31ST
Jim Proudfoot, Edmonton's four-year-old, has entered in the cross-country, downhill, slalom and jumping fell about 30 yards from the finish line and sent his time jumping back to 1:57.1 to finish 21st. He was followed by Bob Hyde who was 22nd with a time of 1:58.9.

Hyde is also entered in the slalom and jumping events to be held today and tomorrow.

Bringing up the rear of the Edmonton entries was "Hard Luck" Hugh Goodman. He placed 38th with a time of 2:34.4 after suffering from a cold and one of his tumblers he sailed right off the course into the bush. Said he "I didn't know whether I was coming or going after that one."

The ladies' downhill was led by Margaret Laidlaw. The Australian queen of the ski pulled her way through the slalom and jumping events to add another title to her record. She capped the women's downhill and made a good run considering she was the North American combined time.

Bailey's Laidlaw Woodworth placed second with a time of 2:14.2 while third spot went to Agnes Noss of Trail, B.C.

Beard, winner of the men's event, is a student at Laval University and has been at the art of the hickories for the last eight years.

The Laval student's coach is Laval Tervet, instructor at Quebec's Chateau d'Esprit, who has been at the art of the hickories for the last eight years.

He had checked during practice runs. "Zia is how we last time," stated Tervet.

Last weekend in the North American downhill, Bertrand recorded the fastest Canadian time on his first run, but took a fall on his second and failed to finish.

Few fans took to the meet yesterday but a bumper crowd is expected tomorrow, under these conditions. The jumping will take place on Sunday when skiers are scheduled to leap off the 40-meter jump.

BILL DAWE LEADS MERCS TO 15-0 WIN

UPPSALA, Sweden, March 4.—(CP)—The touring Edmonton Mercury last night walloped an all-star Uppsala team 15-0 in an exhibition hockey game.

Mercury, Canada's entry in the world hockey championships in London starting March 13, tallied only once in the opening period.

They hammered in five goals in the second session and overpowered the Swedes with nine more goals in the closing period.

It was their fifth straight victory in Sweden.

Bill Dawe led the Canadians with four goals. Marsh Darling and Doug MacKay scored three each. Other scorers were Leo Luchini and Al Williams.

Alberta Budget Song

Suggested theme song for Alberta Government on presentation of the 1960 Manning budget:

Sing a song of oil boys,
A pocketful of dough,
Four and twenty millions
Every month or so.
But when the "pie" was opened
The Grits began to sing
Isn't that an awful lot
For Manning's crowd to fling?

Every dog has his day and Edmonton dogs will have two days on April 10 and 11. That's when Edmonton Cocker Spaniel and Capital City Kennel Clubs stage the annual spring show.

Friend George Wells passed along this information. He's a member of Edmonton Kennel Club executive, which recently chose J. Kilgannon as president; A. W. Lee, first vice-president; S. L. Olson, second vice-president, and Mrs. J. Kilgannon as secretary-treasurer.

Oldest Dog Club

Edmonton Kennel Club is the oldest dog club in the city. It held the first show in 1910 in the old exhibition grounds on Ross Plains. Charlie May, one-time mayor of Edmonton, was the first president. Harry Nash, who was in the first show, is still an active member.

First show drew an entry of 40 dogs and nobody was too fussy about pedigrees.

Even a coyote and her litter were exhibited in that first dog show 40 years ago.

Lucky people of the month item: Dave Stirling of CP Airlines and Mrs. Stirling will wing their way across the broad Pacific next week to a holiday in Honolulu. Say hello for me Dave, to those grass skirt girls on Waikiki Beach.

Funny thing about birthdays is that you keep having them as long as you live. And it was a nice little birthday party that was held for a very nice lady over at the Macdonald last night. Edmonton socialite Mrs. Jim Macdonald, brother Carl and sister Mrs. K. C. MacLeod put on the do in honor of their mother, Mrs. Clyde Macdonald. It was birthday number 80.

Helps Other Youngsters

Mrs. Macdonald did a fine job of bringing up her own family and still found time to "mother" many other little folk as well. For years she headed the Children's Aid Society, which runs the children's home in the west end now operated by the Kiwanis Club.

There ought to be many more nice birthday parties for mothers like Mrs. Macdonald, don't you think?

Another good Edmonton citizen was counting like a cluster of candles yesterday. Bill (Buggins) Coleman of The Bulletin janitorial staff passed another (67th) milestone. Bill says he doesn't feel any older but can't figure out where those extra five steps on the stairs came from in the last three years.

Edmonton oil publicity agency Johnny Macdonald calls attention to a serious omission in a recent item in this column. I neglected to publish the name of one Jack Stewart in taking note of the oil colony sleigh drive. Those Macdonalds sure go to bat for those Stewarts.

A prosperous goodnight to all and especially to people who have not yet struck oil.

Carnival Ice Soft

Eleven-year-old Donnie Cornbrook, 870-828 avenue, took a lusty bite of his history and settled in the corner of the skating rink at Bonnie Doon skating rink. He was luscious but happy about the world in general.

"But give him a rate, I would like to see what I could do," he said. "I'm not a rate, but I couldn't catch the other fellows."

Donnie was only one of hundreds of other youngsters who were skating themselves into the ice at winter carnivals held at Bonnie Doon, Saskatchewan district and Riverdale Community League and Riverdale Community League skating rinks last night.

They were racing, figure skating, ice hockey, and other events at all three centres.

Parents and children gathered to watch the ice shows. All youngsters put forth their best efforts to take home the honors of the night.

At Riverdale rink, two teams of girls opposed each other and displayed some fancy skating in a game of broomball.

The youngsters found the going a little slow on the rinks due to soft ice and in some cases fancy skaters could not perform their usual figures.

Highlight of the evening at each was the crowning of the queen. At Bonnie Doon, Alice Neal was crowned and received her subjects' following the ceremony. Joy Dewiller carried off the honors at Riverdale and at the skating rink, Jacqueline Davis, Sherbrook rink, was chosen.

Edmonton Fur Man Plans Experiment With Fishers

Increasing in rarity in their wild state and still in the experimental stage of being raised for export, three fishers arrived here yesterday for Jack DeLong.

Mr. DeLong purchased the animals from W. O. Douglas, manager of the Hudson's Bay Experimental Fur Farm at Winnipeg.

Examining the animals as they were transferred to their new cages in J. F. Topping, manager of the Hudson's Bay Fur Farm at Winnipeg.

Mr. DeLong is superintendent of fur farms for the provincial government, and Mr. DeLong is manager of the ranch.

The fur experts said they believed the three animals were the only fishers west of Winnipeg kept by a professional breeding ranch.

The fisher's rarity and the quality of his fur make him a valuable asset particularly if there is success in reproduction. The fisher skins water and he is heavily skinned fish, but that was the name given him and he's a fisher.

Mr. DeLong, a WOG with the Princess Louise Guard during the war, placed value of the fisher at $10,000.

The DeLongs have listed at auction some 1400 mink pelts last season and topped the Hudson's Bay sale by receiving the highest bids for all Canada at their Montreal auction, said Mr. DeLong.

Unemployed Association Organized

Unemployed in Alberta have been urged by Fred Dowling, national president of United Packaging Workers of America, to join the Unemployed Association west of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Mr. Dowling spoke to members at Edmonton Labor Council in the National Hall.

The UFWA director also urged all union members to sign protest forms against government handling of the unemployment situation.

Other matters stressed by the speaker were the necessity for pension plan and abolition of the means test for old age pensioners.

Jack Hanson, UFWA representative in Alberta, presided at the meeting.

School Setup Under Review

Recommendations aimed at improving the Jasper area school system will be drawn up by a Taxpayers' Association committee.

President R. F. Lambert said last night that increase in efficiency was felt "necessary" since 47 per cent of last year's Grade seven pupils in the village failed in final examinations.

The advisory committee to the school board are president Lambert, vice-president Kim Robertson, E. Miller and Dr. H. B. Lamb.

The committee's recommendations will be dealt with at Taxpayers' Association meeting, March 28.

Appointment of J. R. Thomas as association secretary was announced.

Vancouver Man Held For Theft

Roger Conway, alias Jimmy Johnson, Vancouver, was arrested by Detective J. W. Langford of Vancouver last night.

Conway was taken into custody with theft of $2 rings from a Calgary jewelry store recently.

He had been arrested also with the Thursday afternoon theft of two rings from Naden Jewelers, here, police said.

The rings stolen from the Edmonton store were recovered from Naden at last night by Detective Harry R. Nelson.

He said the married wedding set, valued at $115, were sold just before the second hand store closed on Thursday—short time after two women and a man were noticed in Naden Jewellers' examining a tray of rings.

Unemployment Insurance Case

D. G. Linton, operator of a garage at Hwy. 107, was fined $75 and costs when he appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate D. J. Conway last night.

Linton was charged with failing to pay unemployment insurance contributions on behalf of 11 employees.

He was also ordered to pay $1000 as a contribution to the fund. Both fine and contribution were paid, according to word received at office of C. P. Macgregor, Edmonton, district investigator.

DISTINGUISHED visitor to Edmonton today was Sir Reginald Watson-Jones, orthopaedic surgeon to the King. At airport to greet Sir Reginald, right, on his arrival by TCA were Dr. Fred Day and Dr. Olav Rostrup, orthopaedic surgeons representing University of Alberta.

Royal Family's Surgeon Addresses Edmontonians

Sir Reginald Watson-Jones, orthopaedic surgeon to His Majesty, who arrived in Edmonton by TCA yesterday on a Dominion-wide tour, addressed the city's physicians and surgeons this morning and was to lecture this afternoon to medical students at University of Alberta.

Sir Reginald's field of orthopaedic surgery concerns the cure of dislocated and otherwise disabled limbs. His research is largely responsible for modern treatment through exercise of injured members of the body.

His Canadian tour is part of the Arthur Ross Commonwealth Teaching Professorship of the Royal College of Surgeons.

Each year a Commonwealth medical man is chosen to make this tour, explained the noted surgeon. "He travels for a year visiting and sharing in the activities of medical schools all over the British Commonwealth."

Purpose of the travelling professorship is to promote the interchange of medical observation and research, he said.

"This includes lectures and discussions with medical students and postgraduates and observations of research progress at the various medical schools," he commented.

Sir Reginald has been orthopaedic surgeon to the King for the last four years.

"Fortunately His Majesty has not required my services as yet. But I am expected on the Duke of Gloucester for an arthritic condition of the foot a while back and I have treated other members of the Royal family," he said.

After covering Canada he will return home for a short rest and then go to Singapore, New Zealand, Australia, the African colonies and Union of South Africa.

"This is my going home for a good rest. That should be around the end of the year," he smiled.

Sir Reginald is no stranger to Canada or to the west. Twenty years ago he attended a conference of the British Medical Association at Winnipeg and at that time visited Vancouver. In 1946 he gave a series of lectures at Portland Ore.

Vets Keen On Bidding For Homes

Expect Third of Number Offered Will Soon Sell

Keen interest in being shown by war veteran tenants of 600 basementless city homes in the offer made this week by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to sell the homes.

R. H. Douglas, manager of Edmonton branch of CMHC, said today there has been a steady stream of inquiries from war veterans (tenants) who would like to buy the homes outright.

NO DEALS CLOSED YET
"We have not closed any deals yet but it is a hot war for that," Mr. Douglas added.

"Many tenants have made inquiries about purchasing and we are assisting a man to interview all prospective purchasers in evening hours at their homes," he said.

Mr. Douglas added he did not expect that all 600 of the homes would be purchased this year and said the corporation would be well satisfied if 200 were disposed of in 1950.

Prices of the houses, built in 1948, range from $3700 for two-bedroom dwellings to $5800 for homes with four bedrooms.

Purchasers must pay 10 per cent as down payment with balance spread over 25 years with interest at four and one half per cent.

The homes, George Maher, 1001-1011 street, told police that field and snare man slipped from behind a fence at 4004 street and Jasper avenue.

PIQUANT PRETTINESS STEALS SHOW

PERKY NAVY FEATHERS point to fashion success on this white Milan straw topper worn by Mrs. S. D. Cameron. Nervous double-berm of corset and blue give the flash of spring's color message. A froth of navy veil completes this zesty sally to new-season hats.

FLOWERS FOR MILADY'S SPRING BONNET

TWILIGHT SYMPHONY of color blends in shades of mauve, pink and blue for this sweetly feminine hat worn by Nancy Johnson. A tiny half-hat of black straw is the base for the spring-time blossoms. Forest-green veiling ties jetchingly under the chin as sweeps to the back.

Spring Opening Show Features Lovely Hats

Spring song of fashion's furbelows will be sung Monday and Tuesday when Thompson and Dynes hold their new-season style opening.

Members of the Junior Hospital League will serve tea during the afternoon of the show.

Soft, easier silhouette of springtime fashions will be shown in a colorful panorama of beautifully tailored suits, color-conscious casual and teatime frocks, versatile coats, romantic evening wear and lovely, lovely hats.

Junior Hospital League members are specially in love with the hats they've modelled for Women of Today.

SIDE-SWEPT SILHOUETTE TAKES HONORS

IMPORTANT LINES of this side-swept silhouette hat of wheat-blonde Italian straw are perfect for classic features of Mrs. John C. Scott. Black banding on the brim and flat rosettes on one side of the back, women are contrast features for flattery and softening charm.

FAR-EAST INFLUENCE LAUDED BY EXPERTS

PEASANT CHARM of Chinese mode hats was borrowed for spring 1934's version of a fashion-first topper. Mrs. J. L. G. wears a Chinese red straw. A double brim, made compact with black banding and bordered with black ribbon.

FACE-FRAMING HALO FAVORED BY FASHION

TRUE TO DICTATES of fashion, spring hats follow the parade of color and elegance. Mrs. L. R. Har wears a wide-brimmed Milan straw of "crushed tomato" red with wide matching velvet ribbons twisted about the crown. The ribbon bands loop on one side about a cluster of vivid royal blue and red flowers.

Fabulous Fabrics Make News

Fabrics are fabulous in millinery's magic mood this year with Milan, Balmain, Bakin straws . . . or rough, braided and cloth straws.

Then again pique, tie silk and the ever-ready felt marshalls honors in the parade of styles.

Veils are important!

A wisp of veiling tied under the chin, or swept to the side . . . or even perched a-top the crown lends the soft, dewy look of the merry-spring-time to a lovely lady.

Ribbon trims too are news.

Taffeta, velvet, satin ribbons are draped in flattering lines to ease the hat silhouette. Buttons and bird - wings came straight from Paris for our attentions.

Cushion brims, tambourine sailors, beehive and coolie crowns will be flaunted in the Easter Parade.

HEAD-HUGGING LOVELY FEATURES FEATHERS

BIRDS OF A FEATHER perch at a seductive angle on Milady's new-season hat. Mrs. E. Madson wears a pattern of straw with a double-berm, made compact with black banding and bordered with black ribbon. A wisp of veiling tied under the chin, or swept to the side . . . or even perched a-top the crown lends the soft, dewy look of the merry-spring-time to a lovely lady.

ROSES BLOOM IN PROMISE OF SPRING-TIME

SHIMMERING KELLY GREEN straw is topped with a half-hat of black straw, a wisp of veiling tied under the chin, or swept to the side . . . or even perched a-top the crown lends the soft, dewy look of the merry-spring-time to a lovely lady.

'Forward' Look Best For Spring

Crisp and romantic versions of the "forward silhouette" make head-line news in spring-time headgear.

Fashion-minded Madams registers interest on the sailors, bonnets and cloches prettied with frills in flower.

Shimmery straw in black, navy, tonalities, pink, white and wheat, lemon-yellow is swathed with veiling and comes out a perfectly lovely hat. Prattlewide brim models vie for attention with head-hugging hats and cloches . . . but always the straw . . . always the flash of trimming in flowers, buttons, fruit.

Flowers are used with fragile femininity in tiny bell hats of blossoming large petals. Side drips of large flowers on profile hats and crown-clusters are followers of fashion's furbelows.

Perky Pixy Pleases Bea in Gaiety Mood

By Bea Thrifty

Saucy little green gremlin has come across the United States border to flout his gamin charms. He's a potter's piece of forest-green hue, fashioned in a nonchalant sitting position.

You buy him for $1.25 and perch him atop a book-case, picture frame, ... or anywhere there's a flat-edged ledge. I have one sitting on my wall-bracket ... peeking from behind an ivy leaf ... and he's as cute as a button ... and bewitching as can be.

He seems almost human as he watches o'er the room.

More in the nonchalant vein ... but in a more expensive mood gives a fast look at the newly imported Royal Doulton figurines. "Fagin" is my favorite with his wispereid, mean of face and scrawny little shape.

He's a dear indeed for a $7.95 price listing.

When spring-time music comes over the air with a ray glow there's no time for such down-loud business as house-cleaning ... or is there?

Helpmate in the grisly task is the new miracle ... or the new elastic, towelling, these newbies will give you a constant supply of fresh, clean dusters, polishing cloths, cleaning cloths, and such.

... never seem to have quite enough of the sort of these newbies ... and these cloths come more than it picks up.

The miracle-cloths sell in a well in the fashion of waxed paper for 7c. The plastic, washable, towelling sells at five for $1.

... there you go ... the whole task seems easier already.

Cleaning-lab brings to mind another little item I spotted today. It's a brand-new arrival on our local market and it's a small square of something or other which does a miracle.

... it's a small square of something or other which does a miracle ... it's a small square of something or other which does a miracle.

Guide Annual Meet In Calgary Today

Week-End Sessions Held in Palliser For Provincial Executive, Guiders

CALGARY, March 4.—"The Key to the Door" is the theme of the provincial annual meeting of the Canadian Girl Guides' Association, being held this week-end in Calgary.

Provincial commissioner, Mrs. S. H. Gandier spoke on this topic when she addressed the annual meeting this afternoon in the Palliser hotel.

Two-day sessions opened yesterday morning with a Commissioner's conference, a Commissioner's conference on matters pertaining to provincial division, and district policy and problems.

DUTIES DISCUSSED
Duties and responsibilities of Local Associations were discussed at a meeting open to all delegates and members of Local Associations.

In the evening an open meeting for all those interested in Guiding was held. Division reports were presented, and a World Friendship film shown.

Guides' conference, held in the Calgary District Scout Headquarters, was first thing on the program this morning.

Guides and commissioners at this meeting, which was highlighted by a round table discussion and display of various types of Guiding, were presented, and a World Friendship film shown.

Registration of council members followed by the annual meeting. Premier Ernest C. Manning will be guest speaker at the annual dinner tonight in the Palliser hotel.

Presentation of awards and handout of pins will be made by Mrs. Gandier.

Guides and Brownie handouts will be made by Mrs. Gandier. Members of the Calgary Branch of the Canadian Handicraft Guild, Mrs. M. W. Brad, Mrs. W. W. Wilson, Mrs. M. H. Hind, Mrs. H. Westroff and Mrs. S. W. Sedgewick.

Craft Display Given at Meet
Handicraft display and instruction was given Mrs. V. Clay and her committee at a March meeting of the Edmonton Local, F.W.C.A. Eighteen members and seven visitors attended at the home of Mrs. C. J. Silimpe.

Roll call was answered by naming a favorite movie picture. Mrs. W. D. Duxan, president, presented plans for future programs.

A social hour followed the business meeting.

Whist Drives
Ladies' Auxiliary Canadian Legion Strathcona Branch 150 are holding whist drives on Friday at 7:30. Tea will be served. Everyone welcome.

Frances Anne Peters Weds Clarence Dosman Here

Sacred Heart Church was the scene of a pretty wedding recently, when Frances Anne Peters became the bride of Clarence Dosman.

Mrs. M. J. O'Gorman performed the morning ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peters of Edmonton, and the son of Mrs. Louis Dosman, and the late Mr. Dosman, of Tompkins, Sask. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white satin, fashioned with a beauteous bodice and dropped neckline of Venetian lace. Her chapel veil was held in place with a coronet of seed pearls.

APRIL WEDDING plans are ready for Marion Adeline Clark and her fiancé LAC Nick Krueger, RCAF. Bride-elect is only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Condy, LAC Krueger is son of Mr. Helen Krueger of Hukin, B.C., and late J. Krueger. Wedding will take place at Metropolitan United Church April 8 at 7 p.m.

The UDLARK

By Theodore Bonnet

Synopsis: Little Wheeler, the Minister, having intended Windsor Castle by way of a colosseum, started the Queen and Dursell at dinner, and actually sat for a moment upon the throne, to see in the custody of Scotland Yard. The servants, the Grenadier Guards, the Yeomen and even members of the Government are concerned and shocked. The public and the newspapers expect a plot. Meanwhile England is buying control of the Suez Canal and various law officers are hammering. Now go on with the story—

CHAPTER 13
Talking to Darcy Hammond, his secretary, the Prime Minister turned to affairs of state. "Well, about this Canal business. You are familiar with it, and I should like you to call personally on Baron Rothschild and make the situation clear to him."

"I understand, sir."
"Two millions sterling by the first of the month and the other two guaranteed by the first of the year—unreasonable, I know," Dursell went on. "But a little better than the first demand. God knows, Rothschild will not have to raise two millions in that kind of hurry, but I'll ask Parliament for a commission of 24 per cent, as he requires. Say that I must have his absolute assurances on these terms."

Within an hour Hammond had returned with the reply.
"Tell Dursell he shall have it. With such great schemes in his head, what would interest him in the plight of a mediocre named Wheeler?"

Added Message From The Baron
"There was another message, sir."

"Lord Rothschild said, 'And since we're buying the key to India, as he calls it, tell him I'll be obliged if he didn't send my niece-in-law brother there.'"

"Niece-in-law brother? Where?"
"To India, sir. It seems he's in the Guards." Hammond consulted a slip of paper. "A Lieutenant McHatten."

"McHatten? Not exactly a common name. I wonder if that's the young man who—Is he in Windsor?"
"Yes, in the Grenadiers."

"Has he been commended with the Rothschild, is he? Lucky dog!"
"Because, sir, are they sending the Grenadiers out to India?"
"I don't know, Hammond; but if they are it will be rather a shock to the Grenadiers, don't you think?" Dear Dursell: there'll be some of McHatten's besting!

Whitehall, won't there? Well, I leave this one to you, my boy. India did not wind Drummell; now it will have to make wound Baron to the box, hushed impatiently with the string, and after some difficulty got the cover off. He took out a frivolous thing of shimmering blue silk and laid it out before him in the lamplight — a blue domino. Mm! He got up, stood blinking at it a moment, and then, holding it against his guest frame, over his red silk dressing gown, walked to a small wall mirror, tilted downward, in which he endeavored by surveying himself full length. Pallid! Haggard! There would be dozens of people in dominos. Always were. And what was the matter with Mrs. Polo? There was a role with character—with idea! The tassel on the ear! He returned slowly across the room, sank back into his chair with the domino on his knee, and sighed, knowing that he would wear it to please her. Dear Anne! And there arose before him the vision of her, not as she was now, but as she had looked at another marble ball forty years before, dressed as Coppola, the most brilliant figure in a brilliant room.

fully closed the double door, walked to his desk, and laid himself down behind it, motioning Harry to a chair in front. He clasped his hands on the desk top, and said: "Well, what is Harry's interest in Lieutenant McHatten?"

"She's the one that wants him transferred."

"Transferred? You mean out of the Guards?"

"What she said was out of England—so far away from England as possible; and the mentioned India, so India is where he's being sent, and of course that means out of the Guards."

"Lieutenant McHatten?" Dursell said. "Whatever did he do?"

"Officially, I don't know. . . . But I had some discreet inquiries made. Harry chuckled. "He wants to go to India, too, but he's afraid."

"He's afraid?" Dursell said. "He's afraid of his own shadow?"

"I don't know. . . . But I can quite understand the lieutenant's wanting to make off with her. But what about Emily?"

"I don't know. . . . But I can quite understand the lieutenant's wanting to make off with her. But what about Emily?"

"Because it seems the Minister has."

Dursell looked at him for a moment without speaking. Then he said, "I must hear more of this."

And the Queen is furious. So Harry, led him slowly into the Prime Minister's room. He came surprised you didn't know. Well, his fully closed the double door, walked to his desk, and laid himself down behind it, motioning Harry to a chair in front. He clasped his hands on the desk top, and said: "Well, what is Harry's interest in Lieutenant McHatten?"

"She's the one that wants him transferred."

"Transferred? You mean out of the Guards?"

"What she said was out of England—so far away from England as possible; and the mentioned India, so India is where he's being sent, and of course that means out of the Guards."

"Lieutenant McHatten?" Dursell said. "Whatever did he do?"

"Officially, I don't know. . . . But I had some discreet inquiries made. Harry chuckled. "He wants to go to India, too, but he's afraid."

at any rate, now you understand my position."

Rothschild Problem

Dursell nodded thoughtfully, studying his outstretched hands on the desk in front of him. He said: "But there happens to be Baron Rothschild to consider."

"At the same time he agreed to purchase the Canal for us, he asked us not to send his niece's something-or-other to India."

"Niece's something — McHatten?"

The Secretary for War moved his lips in a silent whistle. "But surely you don't think—Surely it wouldn't affect the Loan? Not such a slight thing?"

"No, hardly that. But 'light' is the very word that occurred to me."

To refuse a man like Rothschild a small favor is often worse than to refuse him a great one."

Hardy wore a troubled, stubborn look; one finger was rising and falling a little irritably on his knee. "Well, it's an unpleasant business. . . . But what's the alternative? Are you asking me to refuse the Queen?"

Suggests Resignation

It was the chief who rose. He moved meditatively to the grate, his hands behind his back, and did not answer. He asked: "Why doesn't McHatten resign?"

"I don't know. Perhaps he will."

"Since Rothschild can't help him."

"Too late for us; the minister will have been done." He stared at the fire for a moment. "Is he still at Windsor?"

"No. He barracks here in London. He'll stay there without leave till his ship sails."

"And when will that be?"

"A week—a fortnight? I'm not sure."

"I'm." The Prime Minister, turned and stared to the window. He stood there with his back to the room, and he had been working hard. "I wish," he said to his friend in the pane, "that I never heard of Lieutenant McHatten."

Negro Musician Angry At Hotel As It's Crowded

Exclusive To The Bulletin
SPOKANE, Wash., March 4.—(BUP)—Jazz musician Louis Armstrong angrily boarded a Great Northern train for Seattle last night after charging the Davenport hotel here had "discriminated" against him in not giving him and several of his party rooms.

James McClellan, manager of the Davenport, said it was simply a matter of Armstrong "not having reservations."

"I tried to pacify him and cool him off," McClellan said. "But he was too mad. He said we were discriminating against colored people."

"That's not true. He wanted 19 rooms and we simply did not have them here. He did not make reservations for the entire band."

Armstrong and his party of 19 men were in the hotel for a week. "We were discriminating against colored people," he said.

CCF Is Charged In B.C. Dispute

Attempt to Break Union Is Laid to Political Group

TRAIL, B.C., March 4.—(CP)—Harvey Murphy, British Columbia regional director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, today charged the CCF with applying "political pressure" to break the mine-mill union.

"Further interference in the labor movement by the CCF," he said, "may cause further rifts, especially in the Canadian Congress of Labor."

Noting that the CCF was behind a CCL move to take over local of the union, he said the mine-mill locals were in "politically strategic communities" and would make "plans" for the CCF in its effort to gain power in British Columbia.

"Political pressure," he said, was applied to force the award of mine-mill jurisdiction to the CCL. The move had been "cooked up" before the executive meetings which awarded the jurisdiction.

In spite of a statement by Harold Winch, provincial leader, that the CCF was keeping an official "hands off" policy in the union contest, Murphy said, "the top men who engineered formation of steelworkers local in Trail were members of the CCF party."

NAMES ONE

Among them, he named Herbert Garrave, a former CCF member of the legislative assembly. Garrave had admitted in Vancouver Thursday he had ordered cards printed for Trail and Kimberly locals of the steelworkers, before the CCL had given steelworkers jurisdiction.

Murphy said Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer of the CCL, was a "spotted" steelworker, affiliated with the CCF. He was seeking jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers (CCL) of which Conroy is a member.

Divorce Court Change Is Asked

OTTAWA, March 4.—(CP)—The Commonsense gave first reading to a private bill transferring jurisdiction over divorce cases from parliament to the exclusive control of Canada.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg north centre) introduced the measure. He said it would leave jurisdiction over alimony and divorce such matters with the provincial courts.

Dapper Young Pilot Lands in Jailhouse

Exclusive to The Bulletin

MT. CARMEL, Ill., March 4.—(UP)—A dapper young Oklahoma who carried a bayonet under his shirt denied today that he stole an airplane in Amarillo, Texas, then played hide-and-seek with police in a cross-country flight.

The youth, who identified himself as Pryor, 27, Tulsa, was seized yesterday in a hotel where he was traced after a police officer recognized the fugitive at a nearby airport.

Pryor had a razor-sharp bayonet strapped to his chest when he was picked up.

The youth refused to answer any questions about the plane. He said he came here by bus. But Sheriff H. Kennard said "Oh, he's our man all right."

LOST IN CLOUD

The plane, a two-seater cove and maroon trailer was stolen from an unlighted airport Saturday night.

Missouri state police charged the plane yesterday after it landed at several airports in Missouri. The highway patrol led right off it as it passed into a cloud bank over Sullivan, Mo.

Police Sgt. James F. Blair said he recognized the craft from war-torn descriptions passed to Illinois police as he was driving past the airport. He checked with airport officials, who said the pilot had taken for a hotel in town. Blair's plane was seized.

Don Lafollette, the taxi driver who took Pryor to the hotel, and Stanley Beckman, owner of the hotel, identified Pryor as the pilot who stepped from the craft.

A double-barreled shotgun was found in the plane.

In addition to the bayonet, Pryor had a short length of rubber hose in his hotel room when he was picked up. The sheriff said Pryor refused to explain why he had the weapons.

The youth, handsome and dressed in a natty tweed suit, sat glumly in his cell at the county jail, shrugging off all attempts to question him.

Strachey Quit Reds in 1940 On Nazi Pact

Exclusive to The Bulletin

LONDON, March 4.—(HUP)—War Minister John Strachey, answering Conservative press attacks, said today it was public knowledge he repudiated Communist policies in 1940.

Strachey in a detailed statement denied as "not true" charges made by Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard that he had never disavowed Communist doctrine.

Strachey, former minister of food, was appointed war minister in the new cabinet this week by Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

RAP APPOINTMENT

Lord Beaverbrook's newspaper criticized Strachey's appointment the cabinet post on grounds his alleged Communist sympathies might open the way for the Russians to obtain additional control and defense secrets from Britain.

"It has always been public knowledge that I supported the Communist doctrine in the years which preceded the last war," Strachey's statement said.

"It is also public knowledge that I repudiated Communist policies in 1940."

"I did so on the specific issue of the Communist refusal to support the war effort following the Hitler-Stalin pact."

"The breach over the specific issue of the war widened into a general repudiation by me of the Communist standpoint."

Buddhist Temple For Japs in 'Peg'

WINNIPEG, March 4.—(CP)—Winnipeg's first Buddhist temple will be built this spring.

The temple, to serve about 120 Japanese families, will be constructed by the Manitoba Buddhist Association, which until now has rented public halls for services.

CANCER PATIENT'S husband, Reginald H. Borotto, 60, is shown leaving Manchester, N.H., court after testifying that he did not ask Dr. Hermann N. Sander to shorten his wife's life. Sander is charged with "murder killing" of Mrs. Borotto, 56, physician's cancer patient.

B-A Oil Will Issue 400,000 Common Shares

TORONTO, March 4.—(CP)—British American Oil Co. Ltd. plans to issue an additional 400,000 common shares, it is announced by W. K. Whiteford, president, in a letter to shareholders.

The funds will be used to finance the company's program of development and expansion, including a new refinery at Edmonton.

No time or price for the issue has been fixed. However, yesterday's closing price on the Toronto Stock Exchange was $29.90, 7/8 or $30.00 a share in 1948.

Current assets total $31,438,750 and current liabilities $27,391,780 to give working capital of $24,046,970.

It is proposed to offer the shares through a country-wide group of investment dealers. Instead of a public offering, preference will be given to present Canadian shareholders.

FREIGHT RATE BOOST MAY BE APPEALED

WINNIPEG, March 4.—(CP)—Premier Campbell told the Manitoba legislature that Manitoba and other provinces are considering the advisability of appealing against the "size and nature" of this week's allowed increase in rail freight rates.

The railways would receive an extra $25,000,000 a year in revenue as a result of the 7.4 per cent rate boost announced Wednesday by the Board of Transport Commissioners, said Mr. Campbell.

Manitoba's freight rates experts are convinced the railways did not need this additional income.

Safe Burglars Weep

TACOMA, Wash.—(UP)—Burglars were bawled in their attempt to rob a safe here by tear gas, but it didn't come from policemen's guns.

A tear gas "bomb" was rigged on the inner door of the safe. When it exploded in the crack between the door and the safe, the burglars were blinded. The contents of the safe were intact.

FREE BLOOD TRANSFUSION SERVICE

YOUR RED CROSS DOLLARS ALSO HELP IN:
Maintaining Red Cross Outpost Hospitals and Nursing Stations.
Bringing comfort to thousands of sick and disabled Veterans in hospitals.
Maintaining Emergency Service units to rush medical aid, food and shelter wherever disaster strikes.

This life-giving service has already been established, and has well proved its worth in most provinces in Canada. Soon, all hospitals will have it available, without cost, for those in need of it. And although this one service alone is worthy of your most generous contribution to Red Cross work...

the work of mercy never ends
